

Leadership changes announced for MDOC administration

Incoming Director Heidi Washington today announced changes to the department's administration as it transitions to her leadership on Wednesday.

Director Heidi Washington

Kenneth McKee, who served as warden of Bellamy Creek Correctional Facility, will oversee operations of the state's correctional institutions as the new deputy director for the Correctional Facilities Administration.

McKee will officially assume the role starting Monday, July 6, but will be available to answer questions and handle necessary tasks as of Wednesday, July 1. His responsibilities will also include oversight of the Bureau of Health Care Services, which will move under CFA management.

Bellamy Creek Deputy Warden Tony Trierweiler will serve as acting warden of the facility as McKee moves to lead CFA.

McKee takes over for outgoing CFA Deputy Director Tom Finco, whose last day is today. Outgoing Director Dan Heyns and Chief Deputy Director Randy Treacher, also complete their service with the department today.

Field Operations Administration Deputy Director Russ Marlan, Budget and Operations Administration Deputy Director Jeri Ann Sherry, and Legislative Liaison Kyle Kaminski, will continue to work in their appointed roles within the department.

Additional changes are expected to be announced soon as leadership transitions.
